

threatening.

"You little bitch, you think you can leave whenever you want huh? Well guess what little Allie-boy you cant, at least not without a parting gift of course." He sneered down at me. I was trembling, scared of what they were going to do to me.

"I-I'm really s-sorry I w-wont d-do it a-again!" I tried to calm my trembling hands. Billy slammed his large hand onto the wall next to my face. I flinched violently with tears starting to leak out from my eyes. All of a sudden Billy grinned an ear to ear grin.

"Time for some fun boys!" He laughed crazily.

Billy lowered the knife and positioned it right above my left eye. He started carving some sort of pattern on m skin with the knife and dragged it all the way down my cheek, stopping a few centimeters above my chin.

I screamed for what felt like hours but in reality was only a few minutes. When he finally finished I had blood running down my face mixed with my tears. The rest of the gang took that as their cue to start tormenting me as well.

They beat me without a care in the world laughing at my pain. Just when I thought it was almost over I felt something hard poke my inner thigh (AN. Not gonna go into details) and felt fear shoot through me ten-fold.

"You ready lil boy? We haven't had much fun for a while" They grinned crazily. "N-no p-please don't!" I screamed and beg while they undressed me. 'Please someone help me' I thought. That was my last thought as they raped me.

**_One Hour Time Skip (still in flashback)_**

I lay broken and bloodied on the hard and cold pavement.

I was stark naked and had multiple wounds and bruises littered all over my body.

The worst one was a thick in width and size cut from my collarbone to my navel. I know it will scar for sure. I still had a hard time believing that I was just beaten and raped by 7 people and felt like dying right then.

My shockingly white hair was matted with blood and looked like a disgusting moldy brown color. My vision was blurry and I looked up at the sky with dull eyes. 'Just take me away' I thought too the gods.

Just when I felt I was losing consciousness I saw long fiery red hair in the corner of my vision, walking towards me. "N-no..." I muttered brokenly and finally succumbed to the darkness.

**_(flashback over)_**

That was over one year ago. My name is Allen Walker and I'm now 15 years old.

It's September 21 and it's the first day of school. I have white hair and a red uneven scar down the left side of my face. My left arm is scaly and red and I was called a monster and a freak by every school and place I have ever gone to.

I really hope it would be different this time. I was preparing for my new school Black Order High. I put on a dark shirt that said 'Who Cares?' and ripped black jeans with a chain on the right side. I had black gloves and a gold earring in my left ear.

Some people would say I was emo but it's just the opposite. I developed a mask of sorts to hide my feelings.

To people I seemed kind and polite even though I looked like a bad-boy. As I was brushing my teeth the door to my room opened and my guardian Cross came inside. He is pretty overprotective and it makes me feel nice.

"Idiot apprentice, don't forget your pills." He said and left just like that.

"Oh and by the way the principal Komui knows everything" He shouted. I looked down and muttered "Isn't that great, another one knows my flaws." I washed my face and left the bathroom, grabbing my pills and phone before running out the door. Fifteen minutes of walking later and a tall building comes into view.

"Woah, intense." I mutter. I see people everywhere rushing to class and some greeting friends. I sigh and open the main doors. Black Order High here I come!

>Allen P.O.V:

I just entered Black Order High School and let me tell you something. I'm impressed. The school looks brand new. Honestly I could go on and on about how great the school looks like but there's just one little problem.

I'm utterly and completely lost. It's practically time for my first period too, but I still have to find the principals office. As I was rushing around I bumped into someone, and when I say bumped I mean hard.

I fell backwards and my paper dropped. I looked up getting ready to apologize but my breath caught in my throat. Standing above me arms crossed was the most handsome man I have ever seen in my life.

He had black hair that seemed to glow blue in the lighting, in a high ponytail that practically reached his waist. He was wearing a dark leather jacket and dark blue jeans with a pair of black sneakers.

He looked down at me annoyed, "Well Moyashi you gonna keep staring, or do I have to hit you to stop?" He gave off a murderous aura. My heart sped up at the sound of his voice. Then realizing what he said I snapped back "Who the hell are you calling a beansprout ponytail?"

He looked as if he were about to strangle me, but seemed to restrain himself before giving off a "Che" and walked away, hair swinging behind him. "Hmph what a jerk" I muttered to myself.

"Need any help their?" I hear a voice to my right. I turn my head to see a girl with dark greenish hair in twin pigtails, wearing a dark blue short sleeve top and peach colored shorts.

"I'm Lenalee Lee, nice to meet you...?" I shook her offered hand cautiously before replying "Allen Walker." She looked both surprised and relieved at the same time. I looked at her confused before grabbing the dropped paper from the floor.

"Your the new kid right?" I nodded at her standing there albeit stiffly. "You need to go to the principal right?" She offered me a kind smile.

"My brother Komui is the principal, if you'd like I can take you to him?" I was relieved, finally someone can tell me where the office is. "Thank you so much! I felt like I was never gonna find it. This school is really big" I said while rubbing the back of my neck embarrassed.

"Ok well follow me then" She pointed towards herself. I nodded and followed her. Five minutes later and I was inside a huge office with papers everywhere, and I mean everywhere.

Wherever you looked you would see a pile of papers I swear I could get lost in it. A purple haired man seemed to be asleep on the desk and a blonde man was next to him attempting to wake him it seemed.

"Oh hello" The blonde man noticed me. Lenalee nodded to him and left saying "Bye Allen, it was nice meeting you. Hope to see you around" She smiled and left with a wave. I gave back my own smile and turned my attention back to the man.

"Hello Mr...?" He smiled and said "Reever, just Reever please." I nodded and gave a shy smile. "Komui, Lenalee is getting married." He whispered to the principal. Komui shot up and shouted "NO, NOT MY PRECIOUS LITTLE SISTER! WHO DID IT REEVER? TELL ME!" Reever shot an annoyed look at Komui and sent me an apologetic glance.

"Ahem, Komui this here is our new student Allen Walker I'm guessing?" He sent me an unsure glance. I nodded in confirmation. It's nice to meet you Mr. Komui and Mr. Reeve. Komui pushed his glasses up to his nose and gestured for me to sit down.

"Well Allen you are starting your sophomore year correct?" He asked me after Reeve left the room. I nodded in confirmation. "Okay well here is your schedule" He hands me a paper with my classes "Oh and Allen, I know of your past and your current issues. Remember to take everything you are given, which includes your pills."

He stated seriously. "Yes Mr. Komui" I said. "Just Komui please, no need for formalities. Ah! Cross has also informed me that anytime you have or feel like you will have an attack to come to me immediately. Anytime that were to happen, I will inform Cross. Understood?"

He stated leaning back into his chair. Well Cross sure is getting more protective of me I thought to myself. I wonder why? "Understood Komui." He scribbles something down on a sticky note and hands it to me. I see it says late pass.

"Just give this note to your teacher, I will inform them why you were late as well. Good luck Allen Walker and welcome to Black Order High!" He waves at me while I start to head out. I smile and say a polite 'Thank You' before heading to what seems to be History.

I glance at the rest of my classes. It goes like this, History, English, Math, Music, Lunch, Science, and Gym. I hate gym! This sucks but I guess its fine, I think to myself. It seems I have all advanced classes again. That probably means a mix of grades. 'Just great' I thought.

Well I guess I should head to room 242 then. Five minutes later I stand in front of the door to my History class. Well here goes...I opened the door and all got quiet. I shift nervously and walk over to a dark haired women who smiled warmly at me. I gave her the note and stood stiffly. "Alright class, this is Allen Walker please make him feel welcome." She gave me an encouraging nod and I smiled back shyly.

"Allen please take a seat between Lavi and Kanda over there." She pointed to a redhead with an eyepatch over his right eye and the man I met in the hallway earlier. I nodded stiffly and walked over to my new seat. I saw Lenalee in the corner of my vision and we both smiled at each other.

As soon as I sat down the readhead now known as Lavi started talking to me. "Hey short stack, I'm Lavi as you know and nice to meet you" He offered a kind smile. I could see it was fake. I would know since I practically live off fake smiles and masks. "Nice to meet you too, Lavi." I offered my own fake smile. I was about to introduce myself to Kanda but he beat me to it.

"Say a word Moyashi, and your dead" I just rolled my eyes and turned away.

This is looking out to be one hell of a year, oh the joy of high school.

* * *

>And done! Okay now I need suggestions, who should be Allen's best friend? The choices are:

**1. Lavi****

**2. Lenalee****

**4. Link****

**Lala: 4****

**Lenalee: 1****

**Lavi: 1****

_**Link wins!**_

**Sorry if yours didnt get picked but all of these characters will still play a pretty big role on Allen's life. ****

**Also, in one of the comments it said that Lavi shouldn't be picked because he had a fake smile. I'm sorry for the misunderstanding but by fake smile I didn't mean towards Allen, I meant that Lavi also wears a mask, similar to Allen, meaning he is also in 'pain' if you understand what I'm getting at?****

>Allen pov:

So far I just went through my first period and even made it out alive!

I know, hard to imagine right? I learned my teachers name was Mrs. Miranda and even though she was really nice she got scared over every little thing she does or thinks she does wrong. Honestly, people are lucky that I am used to being called a freak and monster, I even heard I'm a 'failed child'.

That was new. I could hear it everywhere, the whispers and stares. I hate it! This is what makes me panic and have anxiety attacks, but I can usually control it. As I get ready to go to second period, I see Lenalee and Lavi looking at me worriedly and talking in hushed voices.

Probably calling me a demon spawn, I thought emotionally. Even though on the outside it seems that none of this affects me, on the inside I feel like I'm slowly breaking. I truly thought Lenalee was at least different. But what can I do? I continued packing my books and started heading out the door.

"Allen!" I heard a voice shout. I turned and saw Lenalee and Lavi come towards me. I put on my fake smile and politely waited for them by the door. "What do you have next?" Lavi questioned. I checked my schedule and saw it said English.

"Um, it says English with Mr. Tyki?" I stated surprised. Hm, I didn't know Tyki worked here. A cheery voice drowned out my thoughts and I floated back to reality just in time to hear "That's great Allen! We both have that as well." Lenalee said smiling happily towards me.

I narrowed my eyes and stated "What's the catch? You wanna beat me up, steal my money? What do you want?!" I nearly shouted starting to panic a bit. They looked at me with different expressions. Lenalee looked horrified and shocked, while Lavi seemed surprised and upset. "We don't want to do any of that sprout. We just want to be friends." Lavi sincerely stated.

I scoffed, "Yeah right, I don't know the word friend. I only have 2 friends and will probably ever have two friends." I bitterly stated. I checked the time on my phone and saw we had one more minute till class starts.

"Well anyway I have to get to class so bye" I frowned and walked away, attempting to find the right classroom number. Lenalee and Lavi seemed to say a silent message with their eyes. Looks like we are gonna have to try harder, they seemed to say. As I walked into the classroom I notice Lavi and Lenalee were already here. I walked to a seat in the back and sat down next to a girl with dark hair and round glasses, doodling in a bright green notebook. She looked at me when I sat down and smiled kindly. I didn't show my surprise to her not reacting violently, and smiled back.

"Hi, I'm Lou Fa! Nice to meet you" She blushed. "Hi Lou Fa, I'm Allen Walker and yes, nice to meet you too." I politely said and took out my notebook. Tyki seemed to keep his gaze on me throughout the entire class and I knew he wanted to talk to me.

"Allen, stay after class please" He said five minutes before class ended. I nodded and put my things away. One by one everyone started leaving and I saw Lenalee and Lavi give me one last glance and they left. "Hi Tyki" I whispered.

I suddenly felt weaker than this morning and knew it was the side effects from the stress I've been feeling and almost panic attack from earlier. "Hey Allen, how do you feel?" He said in a soothing voice. I felt dizzy and leant against him. "Tyki..." I said quietly. He hugged me and let me lean against him. I slowly felt the effects pass and stood up straight.

"Thank you Tyki-pet" I said gratefully. He just laughed "Anytime bunny" he smiled his creepy smile. Tyki and Road, his nephew and my cousin of sorts knew of my condition and were the only good ones in their family. But that's a story for another time. Tyki's voice snapped me out of my thoughts and I gazed at him tiredly. "Tyki-pet I have to go to class." I murmured.

"Let me take you there, knowing you little bunny, you'll get lost." He stated amusedly. I pouted cutely. "Kay" I said. Five minutes later we arrived at my math classroom. Tyki entered first and held my hand, dragging me in.

Everyone was quiet watching Tyki drag me in. He let go of my hand and went to talk to the teacher, who's name was Mr. Krory according to him. I looked around to see some eyes at me and some at Tyki. I recognized Lavi sitting next to Kanda in the back. I averted my gaze from Lavi's pleading eyes and Kanda's piercing gaze. I shifted impatient and cleared my throat.

"Oh right! Sorryyyy bunny!" Tyki said in a sing-song voice. I glared at him, then smirked while he paled. "What was that Tyki-p mph" Tyki covered my mouth. I looked up at him with amusement. He moved his hand and gave me a quick hug before excusing himself. He looked at me worried and I understood the message he was giving me 'stay safe'. "Bye Tyki-pet" I smirked at him. He looked at me horrified and I closed the classroom door.

I turned around to see everyone staring at me.

"Oops" I said aloud in a uncaring voice. Some boy in the back with curly brown hair raised his hand while staring at me weirdly. "Yes Chaoji?" Mr. Krory asked. "I have a question for Allen sir" The teacher looked at me and I just shrugged.

"Are you and Mr. Tyki dating?" I just stared at him while everyone was looking at me waiting for an answer. Then I burst out laughing. Everyone jumped surprised at my laughing. "Good one!" I cried, tears in my eyes.

"If he's not that what's going on with you two?" I wiped my eyes of the tears and answered back "He's my uncle" I stated with seriousness. He looked ready to ask another question before the bell rang. "Oh it seems we've ran out of time" Mr. Krory said.

"Dismissed". I left the classroom and went to lunch. I found out exorcists get free lunch and simply got a sandwich and juice, seeing I wasn't too hungry cause of my almost attack earlier. Pretty soon the day passed by and we had a early dismissal after lunch since it was the first day.

I left the school after a while and went to my house. I was waiting to see my best friend Link. Link and I have been best friends for as long as I can remember. We have known each other for nine years and he has been by my side through everything. I love him for that (as best friends of course). He was gonna come over later and hang out with me. He lives at the house across the street from mine, lucky us!

I walked into the house and put my bag down. I undressed and got changed into more comfy clothes. Cross seemed to be out again so I just sat down and watched tv. I had no homework since it was the first day and all.

While watching tv I thought about our other friend Lala. I haven't known Lala for nearly as long as Link but she was still close to Link and I. We met when I moved here almost two years ago. She lives next to Link's house, small world huh? Lala and Link attend school somewhere else though. It's called CROW school and its a block away from Black Order High. Their my closest friends and I'm happy I have them.

Soon I hear the doorbell ring and know Link is here. I jump up off the couch and open the front door. Link is there with a smile on his face and walks in. Link had blond hair in a braid going to his mid back. He has two dots on his forehead but I don't make fun of him because I have a jagged scar running down my face, fair and square right? He's wearing black sweats and a dark blue shirt with a leather jacket.

"Hey Allen" He greets me while giving me a hug. "Hey Link, I missed you" I breath into his hair. "I missed you too Allen" He replied hugging me tightly.

I haven't seen Link in two weeks since he was out of town with his mom. Link's dad died when he was little but his mom took care of him greatly. We walk to the couch and start talking about his trip and what he did. He went sightseeing and also brought back a key chain for me.

It had the letter A with snowflakes as a design running along the letter. "Wow, Thank you Link" I smiled joyfully. "No prob Allen" He smiled back. Only Link and Lala have ever received my genuine smiles and it will probably stay that way. I told Link about my first day and he told me about his, we kept exchanging stories until I felt my eyes slip closed. I leaned against Link's shoulder and drifted off to sleep.

**Allen's nightmare****

The scenery changed to a snowy night, a brown haired boy with an oven mitt covering his left hand and his right hand holding another's hand, were walking in the snow. All of a sudden he was pushed down and hit in the head with a bat. He cried out in pain and turned around to see blood.

Blood everywhere, on his clothes, in the snow, on their hands. He was hyperventilating. "NO no no no NOOO, MANAAA!"

**Nightmare ends****

I woke up convulsing. I struggled to breath and coughed painfully. Link was all of a sudden in front of me and saying something. Link? Huh? What's going on? I panted, short breaths, keeping me alive. I had sweat dripping down my face, everything was blurry. Help me...I thought before feeling something being shoved down my throat and fading into blackness.

>Allen Pov:

It felt like I was stuck in darkness. I cant feel or see anything. Its as if I am underwater, vaguely hearing voices.

I know theirs someone there, I just cant understand what they are saying. Suddenly I feel the urge of being pulled away, and I just let myself get pulled. "-en" Huh? Did someone say something? "-llen!" I know that voice. Who was it again? "Allen!" I jolt upwards with a gasp.

I feel my shoulders get pushed back down into my...bed? Wasn't I on the couch? All I remember was watching t.v. and Link came over, then nothing but pain. I look up groggily, not yet completely awake. I see a blond haired boy above me.

"Are you okay?" Link asked me worriedly. I just nodded tiredly. "W-what happened?" I rasped out. Link moved my hair out of my face and sighed.

"You had another attack Allen. Are you under stress? Did someone come back from your past? What's happening with you Allen?!" He almost seemed to scream out. I looked away guilty.

Tears started edging their way into my vision. I didn't answer him, burying my face into my pillow. I heard shuffling and a door close shut. That's when I started sobbing. I couldn't stop, the tears seemed to never end.

I made Link worry over me and seemed to make him angry. Maybe he'll leave me too. It's not like I wasn't used to it, I thought bitterly.

My body was shaking and I felt a familiar pain in my chest. It made me panic and that was not the best option considering my state right now.

I started gasping feeling like there wasn't enough air. My chest tightened considerably and I felt as if it was squeezing my heart. I coughed a few times, hurting my already sore throat in the process.

I could feel the blackness edge around my vision and started hyperventilating. I tried to get up to get my pills and knocked over a glass by my bedside. I tripped and fell onto the broken glass. I felt it pierce my side and I think one cut my head.

All I knew after that was darkness.

_Link Pov:_

Allen just woke up. I was really worried for him, his attack was pretty bad. I feel bad because I know right now he must be blaming himself for making me walk out of the room seeming 'angry', when I wasn't.

I just wanted to get a few minutes of fresh air and then I was going to get a wet cloth for his head. I know he must be feeling pretty crappy right now. Just then I heard something crash to the ground and I looked up towards Allen's room.

I listened for a few seconds hearing a 'thud' and ran to his room, wash cloth and all left behind. I opened the door quickly searching for white hair and saw him laying on the ground, a pool of blood quickly surrounding him and glass shards all over.

I gasped, a hand over my mouth and ran to his side.

"Allen!? Allen! Can you hear me?" I panicked. I shook him a bit, seeing he had a head and side injury, to try to wake him. He just lay there motionless, ragged breathing the only thing heard in the silence of the room.

I knew immediately that he had another attack, and this one was much, much worse. It was probably because of me, I thought guiltily. I knew exactly who to call at a time like this. First, I need to call him an ambulance, and also I need to contact his guardian, knowing his protective side. I dialed 911 quickly while leaning Allen against the bed, so not to further aggravate his injuries.

"Hello?! Yes can I get an ambulance for 1019 Merryweather Street, my friend collapsed from an anxiety attack and sustains injuries in his side and his head. Yes, okay thank you very much" I hung up the call. I checked Allen seeing him getting more pale by the minute and he was still bleeding as well.

I took a few tissues that were by his head, seeing nothing else I could use and pushed his wound a bit to add pressure.

Next, I dialed Cross. "Hello Cross. Sorry to interrupt your date but this is far more important. NO, Allen is not doing drugs, this is far worse. Listen will you! Allen is being admitted to the hospital, he had a bad attack and injured himself. Yes, just meet us at the hospital please. Yeah, it's Matron Hospital. Okay bye" I hung up quickly, hearing sirens.

I ran outside with Allen in my arms. I waited outside, impatiently but saw a few neighbors come out. Lala wasn't home yet so I would have to inform her later. I did in fact see a redhead with an eyepatch, a long haired man with a katana? -being dragged by a girl with pigtails outside. They saw us and seemed to look confused, before having alarmed faces and running over. Well atleast the redhead and girl did, the samurai guy was dragged.

"Omg! What happened to Allen?!" The girl asked. I looked at them suspiciously. As I was about to answer I heard the sirens come closer before an ambulance arrived, quickly asking some questions while loading Allen in the car. I answered to the best of my knowledge before they left. I had to take my own car seeing they had no more space available in the ambulance. I turned to the group once the car was gone.

"How do you know Allen?" I raised my brows suspicious. "He is in some of our classes" The redhead answered.

I nodded before opening my mouth to answer. "All you need to know, since you seem like you wont stop asking, is that he had an anxiety attack that led to an accident" I muttered upset. "The rest is up to Allen to tell you, he doesn't really warm up to people easily. I would know since it took me at least a year to feel comfortable around" I said, getting my keys from my pocket.

"Will he be okay?" The girl asked. I turned around and looked them all in the eyes. The redhead had a worried and confused look in his one eye, the girl seemed surprised and upset, and the samurai man seemed like he didn't care, but I could have sworn I saw a hint of concern flash.

"I don't know" I answered honestly, before heading to my car.

"If you'll excuse me" I got inside and drove towards the hospital. I glanced in my side mirror seeing them talking before heading into their houses. Maybe Allen can finally open up some more, he could finally have more friends that I know he's always wanted.

He has me and Lala but I know it would be best for him to have more friends that go to his school and especially ones that live a few houses away.

Perhaps one day... And I drove away.
